

Save The Turtles

Joseph and Erie

This is a turtle that has been trapped in a plastic bag

Plastic Pollution

Moby duck and his friends have been floating around our ocean since 1992. They have gone on an incredible voyage across our seas and oceans. Here are just a few of the places they've visited: UK, Alaska, Greenland, France, The Phillipines and many more.

The Danger of Microplastics

Microplastics start as everyday plastics that you would see all day long. They then start to shrink in the ocean and fish then either they mistake it for food or they accidentally eat it. Then we eat the fish that have plastic inside them!

Action to save the ocean

We should try to buy eco friendly alternatives for plastic or if we do use plastic try to reuse it
